1 Brief description

More than 70 years, the RECYCLING magazin has reported independently on the latest economic, political and technical developments in the recycling and waste management industry. The editorial team takes an in-depth look at each of the various groups of materials and likewise analyses events in the worlds of business, politics and technology. The RECYCLING magazin provides its readers with orientation that helps them classify and explain new developments, making it an indispensable medium for the recycling and waste management sector.

Newsletter

Every two weeks the editorial team sends a newsletter with the latest news and previews about the next magazine to around 3,300 qualified addresses. The target group comprises decision-makers in the recycling and waste disposal industry.

Stand-alone newsletter

You can, of course, also use our addresses exclusively for your promotional activities. This means we will send your individually designed "html" or "text" newsletter to our newsletter subscribers on your behalf.

Rates for stand-alone newsletter

List of qualified addresses: around 3,300; Rate for a complete mailing: €1,590
We will also gladly take care of the design work for you at a small extra charge (available on enquiry).

Reporting for banners and newsletters

In cooperation with our partners Adtech and Webtrends we can provide you with a detailed overview of the campaigns you have commissioned. On request we can provide you with comprehensive reporting on ad impressions, unique visitors and click rates. The information enables you to take individual action, even during your campaign. You are, of course, free at any time to replace the currently running banner with a new one, which helps you react quickly to any version changes.

Technical data

In order to accelerate and optimise the production processes of our publications, all DETAIL Business Information GmbH magazines are printed computer-to-plate. This process makes it necessary to have all printing documents available in digital form. In order to prevent errors in printing or exposure, the following points must be observed when preparing data files. Please forward this information to the agency or advertising department you have commissioned to produce your print documents.

Data files

- The printable data file must be created according to PDF/X1a or PDF/X3 standards using Adobe Distiller.
- All fonts must be embedded.
- Colours may not be in RGB. If special colours are to be used, please arrange this in advance with the publisher.
- Allowance must be made for all colour profiles.
- Please do not use hairlines.
- We recommend using 300 dpi as an image resolution.
- The data file must be generated in the final size (100%).
- For sizes larger than 1/1 page, each page must be generated separately (incl. allowance for trim). Montage will be carried out by the printer.
- Allow 3 mm trim for bleed elements.
- The size of the advertisement must correspond to the size specified in the advertising order.

Proof

For colour advertisements the printer requires a colour-defined digital proof. For b/w advertisements a laser print is required. If no proof is available, any variations from the original advertisement could be possibly overlooked.

General Terms and Conditions of Business for Advertisements and Preprint Inserts in the “NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES“

1. An “advertisement order” within the meaning of the following General Terms and Conditions of Business is a contract with respect to the publication of one or more advertisements of an advertiser or space buyer in a publication for advertising purposes.
2. If there is any doubt, advertisements are to be called up for publication within one year of the conclusion of the contract. If, within the framework of the contract, the right has been granted to call up individual advertisements, the order is to be wound up within a year of the publication of the first advertisement provided the first advertisement was called up and published within the period of time mentioned in sentence 1.
3. When a contract is concluded the advertiser is entitled to call up further advertisements within the period of time agreed on or within the period of time mentioned in item 2 over and above the number of advertisements mentioned in the order.
4. If an order is not fulfilled due to circumstances beyond the control of the publishing house, the advertiser has, regardless of any other legal obligations which might arise, to reimburse the publishing house for the difference between the discount that was granted and the discount that would correspond to the amount actually purchased.
5. Once the purchase amount has been reached text millimetre line rates will be converted into the appropriate ad millimetre rates.
6. Orders for ads and preprint inserts that are expressly only to be published in specific issues or positions in the magazine have to arrive at the publisher in sufficient time for the advertiser to be informed prior to the closing date for advertisements should it not be possible to execute the order in the requested manner. Classified ads are printed in the appropriate section and require no particular agreement.
7. Advertisements that because of their editorial design are not recognisable as such will be made more clearly distinguishable by the publishing house adding the word “advertisement”.
8. The publishing house reserves the right to reject advertisement orders – also individual release orders within the scope of a contract – and insert orders, on account of their content, origin or technical form in accordance with uniform, objectively justified principles of the publishing house if their contents violate laws or official regulations or it cannot reasonably be expected that the publishing house print them. This also applies to orders placed with branch offices, advertisement offices or representatives. Insert orders only become binding for the publishing house once a sample of the insert has been submitted and approved. Inserts which give the reader the impression that they are part of the newspaper/magazine on account of their format or layout, or include advertisements from third parties, will not be accepted. The advertiser will be informed immediately that his advertising order has been rejected.
9. The advertiser is responsible for ensuring that the advertisement text and faultless artwork or the insert is delivered to the publishing house in good time. The publishing house will be prompt to demand a replacement for any artwork that is visibly unsuitable or damaged. The publishing house guarantees the usual printing quality of the booked title within the scope of the means arising from the artwork submitted.
10. If the printed version of the advertisement is partially illegible, not correct or incomplete, the advertiser is entitled to a reduction in payment or to a replacement advertisement that is free from defect, but only to the same extent as the purpose of the advertisement was impaired. In the event that the publishing house lets an appropriate deadline that he was set for this pass, or that the replacement advertisement is once again not free from defects, the advertiser has the right to a reduction in payment or to withdraw from the contract. Claims for damages or compensation occasioned by positive violation of a claim, negligence on conclusion of the contract and tortious acts are – even if the order was placed by telephone – excluded. Claims for damages or compensation occasioned by impossibility of performance and delay in performance are limited to compensation for the foreseeable damage and to the remuneration to be paid for the advertisement or insert in question. This does not apply to damage caused intentionally or by gross negligence by the publishing house, its legal representative or its vicarious agents.
The liability of the publishing house for damages due to the lack of characteristics or features that were promised remain unaffected. In addition, in the course of business the publishing house is also not liable for the gross negligence of its vicarious agents; in the remaining cases liability towards businessmen and women for gross negligence is, in terms of scope, limited to the foreseeable damage up to the amount of remuneration to be paid for the advertisement in question. Complaints – except in the case of non-obvious defects – must be put forward within four weeks of receipt of the invoice and voucher copy.

11. Trial copies are only supplied if expressly requested. The advertiser is responsible for the correctness of the returned trial copy. The publishing house takes into account all corrections that are communicated to him within the deadline set when the trial copies were originally sent to the advertiser.

12. If no particular instructions are given with respect to size, the actual and usual height of the print version for that type of advertisement will be taken as the basis for calculation.

13. In the event that the advertiser does not make an advance payment, the invoice will, as far as possible, be sent fourteen days after publication of the advertisement. The invoice is to be paid within the time period mentioned in the price list as from the date on which the invoice was received, provided that no other terms of payment or advance payment has been agreed on in individual cases. Possible discounts for early payment will be granted in accordance with the price list.

14. In the event that the advertiser defaults or requests an extension, interest and collection fees are charged. If the advertiser defaults the publishing house can defer the implementation of the remaining current order until payment has been made and demand that advance payment be made for the remaining advertisements. If there is reasonable or legitimate doubt about the advertiser's ability to pay, the publishing house is entitled, even while the advertising contract is running, to make the appearance of further advertisements dependent on the advance payment of the sum and on the settlement of unpaid invoices irrespective of the terms of payment originally agreed on.

15. If requested to do so the publishing house will supply an advertiser's copy with the invoice. Depending on the type and scope of the advertising contract, tear sheets and the complete advertiser's copies will also be supplied. If an advertiser's copy can no longer be procured, a legally binding certification from the publishing house confirming the publication and distribution of the advertisement will take its place.

16. The advertiser is to bear the cost of producing the necessary artwork and of any substantial modifications requested by the advertiser, or for which he is responsible, to the design originally agreed on.

17. The orderer guarantees that he has the legal ownership regarding all rights to publish the advert. The orderer is solely responsible for the content and the legal admissibility of all material being delivered in connection with the publication of the advert. The orderer exempts the publishing house from all possible third party claims, which may be enforced in connection with the publication of the advert. Furthermore, the orderer exempts the publishing house from all costs being necessary for legal assistance in the subject matter. After all, the orderer is obliged to support the publishing house in good faith with respect to the gathering of information and material being necessary for potential legal affairs. He is also obliged to inform the publishing house in writing about omission statements or temporary injunctions with regard to the rights of third parties.

18. In the case of box number advertisements the publishing house exercises the diligence and care of a prudent businessman when it comes to safekeeping and passing on the offers in good time. Recorded deliveries and express letters in response to box number advertisements will be sent on by normal post. Replies to box number advertisements will be kept for four weeks. Replies that have not been collected within the time will be destroyed. The publishing house will return valuable documents without being obliged to do so.

The publishing house can, by individual contract, be granted the right, as an agent, to open the incoming offers instead of and in the explicit interest of the advertiser. The publishing house is not obliged to pass on offers of people trying to sell their wares and offers of mediation.

19. Artwork will only be returned to the advertiser if this has been specifically requested in writing. The publishing house is only obliged to keep such artwork for a period of three months from the time that the advertisement appeared in print and in the case of contracts from the time that the last advertisement appeared in print.

20. Place of jurisdiction and place of performance is the office of the publishing house.
